Project Description

Lesokontrol is a warehouse application, intended to meet the most basic requirements of a forestry firm's timber yards' stock flow - in-stock list of timber material stocks with multiple options for sorting by all stock input characteristics; extracting materials to orders; order issuing; stock flow journal for extracted stock items. The stock items are organized in lots with the following input characteristics – unique identification number, wood type (four types of wood are available), 3-dimensional size, in-price and number of separate pieces per lot.

Available timber yards can be chosen from the dropdown list "Yard", which presents a list of all the firm's yards. New yards can also be added by hitting "New yard" under "File" and entering the new yard's name in the respective window. After choosing a yard, the down left list view table "In stock" is populated with all currently available timber lots from the chosen yard. The lots in the table can be easily sorted by ID, Wood, Width, Height, Length, Price or Pieces by clicking on the corresponding column headers. New lots can be added by hitting the "ADD LOT" button, which opens a new window to fill in all the data required.

After selecting a timber lot from the "In stock" table, the number of pieces to be extracted from the selected lot should be written in the corresponding "Pieces" text box. The number of pieces cannot be less than 1 or greater than the selected lot's pieces in stock (from the "In stock" table).

After choosing how many pieces to extract from the yard, hit the "TO ORDER" button and a new lot with the desired number of pieces will be extracted from the "In stock" table and will appear on the bottom right table "Order". The bottom right table "Order" shows all the current order's lots the same way as the "In stock" table does. Again, sorting by columns is available, and price is respectively calculated for the new number of pieces in the lot.

To issue the order, hit "REPORT" button and a "order_<id>.txt" file will be created in the main solution directory, where <id> is the uniquely generated identification number of the order.

You can keep track of all added or fully extracted timber lots from all of the firm's yards by opening the Firm Journal, located on the main solution directory, under "firm journal.txt" title. The Firm Journal keeps track of the exact date and time a lot is added or completely removed (all of its pieces are extracted to the order) from the "In stock" table; of the flow type – IN or OUT; and of the characteristics of the lot.

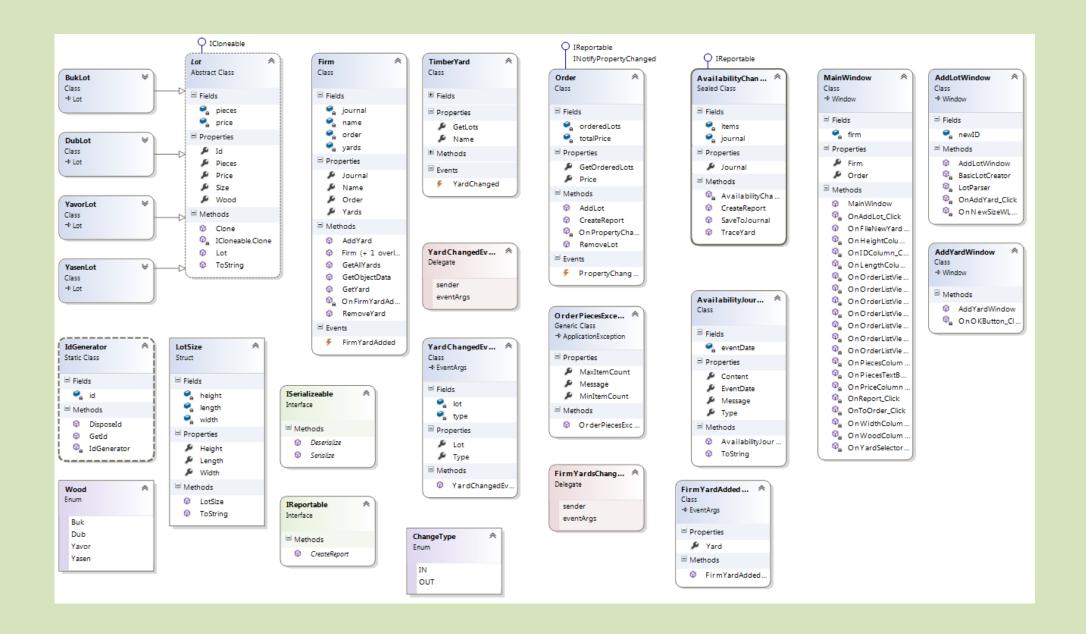

The top right table contains "ORDER IN-PRICE" field, which represents the current total purchase price (in-price) of the order below. The fields "ACCRUALS" and "TOTAL" are left to calculate the further accruals over the base in-price and calculate the total price of the order.
